

Robert Murray

Curator of The Foxfire Museum and Heritage Center

What comes to mind when remembering such a man?

Loving husband, great father, lifelong friend, engaging educator, talented naturalist and folklorist, brilliant scholar, museum curator, mesmerizing tour guide, amazing philosopher, renowned student of his “place”, Foxfire ditch digger (as he referred to himself), loyal employee, Appalachian Renaissance man.

We gladly celebrate his life and sadly mark his passing.

The Foxfire Fund, Inc.

